

PARENTS ASSOCIATION AT BELLEFONTAINE HABILITATION CENTER SERVING FOR 60 YEARS

This year, 2025, marks 60 years of the Parents Association advocating for residents at the Bellefontaine Habilitation Center in St. Louis, Missouri.

NO NEW ADMISSIONS POLICY IN MISSOURI

Missouri has had a policy of no new admissions to state run Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with and Intellectual Disability (ICFs/IID) (called habilitation centers in Missouri) since 2008.

Families, hospitals, and other social agencies do call habilitation centers for assistance with placement, but have to be directed to our Regional Office that only place persons in the community.

The current habilitation centers are: Bellefontaine, Higginsville, South County, St. Charles, and Southeast Missouri Resident Services at Poplar Bluff/Sikeston. The census of the habilitation centers continues to dwindle as older residents are passing away.

Family organizations continue to meet with the Missouri Department of Mental Health about opening up admissions, especially for older adults with intellectual disabilities so that they don't end up in nursing homes without the special care they need.

No new admissions in habilitation centers means that some people in need of services are suffering. They are stuck in hospitals, prisons, or are homeless on the streets not getting the help they need.

CRISIS CARE AT HABILITATION CENTERS

Habilitation centers do have some short-term admissions only. Bellefontaine Habilitation Center began serving 5 individuals needing crisis care as the community provider, Equilibrium, was shut down by the Department of Mental Health. Some have found community placement, and others are still seeking to find appropriate care.

STAFF SHORTAGE

As is true on a national level, staff shortages in the Missouri Department of Mental Health means that some people in need of services are suffering. They are stuck in hospitals, prisons, or are homeless on the streets not getting the help they need.

In 2022 Department of Mental Health (DMH), Division of Developmental Disabilities (DD), developed Missouri Talent Pathways, a registered apprentice program to recruit and retain a highly skilled and dedicated workforce. Participants receive a certificate as a Certified Direct Support Professional

MISSOURI ADVOCACY TO RETAIN 14C CERTIFICATES of the FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

Many federal agencies are promoting the elimination of 14c certificates that allow paying wages based upon productivity. Eliminating these special wages would put many sheltered workshops out of business. Missouri continues to advocate for retaining 14c certificates. For more information, go to:
